

2025 Information Security Officer Seminar

Tuesday, June 24 — Johnston

Presented by: Emily Strickland and Jackie Marshall - Safe Systems, a UFS Company

With intensifying regulatory requirements and the constant increase in the number of cyberattacks on customer information, a heavy burden has fallen on the shoulders of the ISO and they need to be prepared for the challenge. This seminar is specifically designed to help both new and experienced ISOs successfully navigate this critical role. The day-long seminar will provide the critical knowledge and skills needed to perform as an ISO in banking today.

Course Topics

- The FFIEC regulatory mandate for the role of the ISO
- Best practices and evolving industry standards
- Segregating responsibilities with IT Management
- Cybersecurity management risks/rewards
- The ISO in a Crisis: How recent cyber-attacks impact ISO expectations
- Business Continuity Management challenges
- Third-party Risk Management – new guidance expectations
- Appropriate Stakeholder Communication:
 - Employees/Customer
 - The IT Steering Committee
 - The Board of Directors
 - Auditors & Examiners

Who Should Attend?

New and experienced Information Security Officers, compliance officers, audit committee members, IT Steering Committee Members and network administrators.

About the Speakers

Emily Strickland

Emily fell backwards into banking as a freshman in college, working part time in a local proof department until graduating with a Media Arts degree from the University of South Carolina. She has worked in retail, loan operations management, deposit operations management, compliance, information security officer, and more. She also sat on the GBA Operations and Technology Committee before leaving banking in the traditional sense and coming to work for Safe Systems.

Jackie Marshall

Jackie currently leads the production and implementation Team for Safe Systems Compliance Products/Services. Jackie has over 30 years of experience assisting financial institutions in IT and information security compliance. Jackie is certified with ISACA as a Certified Information Security Manager (CISM). Jackie speaks on an array of FFIEC IT and information security related topics including Cybersecurity Risk Management Strategies, The Evolving Role of the Information Security Officer and Tips for Effective Incident Response Planning.
